ARE YOU STILL IPAC COMPLIANT?

Following the Science and Public Health Ontario Guidance

As our industry continues to navigate through new challenges, we rely on our training, science, and commitment to provide the best care possible.

As clinicians, we are far more likely to stay in compliance when we understand the foundation of the science that helps to create the guidance.

What is a PCD? Can I flash sterilize? What's the frequency for biological monitoring?

Join us for a practical review of IPAC Standards of Practice, so that you can confirm that YES, you are still compliant!
